

Advanced Placement and High School Enrichment Ideas

Accessing Your AP Account:

Log in to your AP Account. Once signed in, you can complete AP Classroom assignments, practice your test taking skills using an AP Practice Exam, and utilize the Word Bank.

Home - AP Students | College Board: https://apcentral.collegeboard.org

Other AP Academic Resources:

- College Board will offer video AP lessons taught by AP teachers beginning March 25.
  - <http://youtube.com/advancedplacement>
  - <https://apstudents.collegeboard.org/coronavirus-updates#free-ap-classes>
- Free online site that personalizes learning in a variety of different subjects. Select the Courses link in the upper left corner for content specific to AP courses.
  - <https://www.khanacademy.org/>
- InfoOhio is a PreK-12 Online Digital Library
  - <https://www.infohio.org/resources/g912>
- iTunes U offers Advanced Placement course materials loaded, most of which are free. You must have the iTunes U app downloaded on an iPhone or iPad. Open the app and search for Advanced Placement in the search area to find online learning materials.

Notes about AP Testing:

The traditional in-person testing for AP credit has been cancelled and will be replaced with an at-home testing format. Here are the key highlights of changes to AP testing:

- Tests will only cover content typically taught through March. See the chart on the AP website (<https://apcentral.collegeboard.org/about-ap/news-changes/coronavirus-update>) for specifics about what will be tested.
- The test will be a 45-minute online exam. Students can take it on a computer, tablet, or smart phone. College Board will also accept photos of handwritten work.
- Students can choose one of two test dates. There will be a date that is sooner for students to test while the information is still fresh in their minds and one date that is later if students want extra time to review. The schedule of test dates will be posted on the College Board website on April 3. Studio Art portfolios will be due May 26.
- Because tests will be administered at home, the College Board will be embedding digital security tools and plagiarism detection software. Treat this like a regular testing session, as any “shortcuts” could result in tests being cancelled.
- College Board has had confirmation from colleges and universities that they will accept scores from these shortened tests using the same guidelines they have applied to accepting AP scores in previous years.

Columbus City Schools does not manage or monitor any products listed above. Parents and guardians are encouraged to preview any websites prior to student use to ensure appropriateness for their child. In an effort to maintain personal safety of our learners, parents and guardians should consider what personal information may be required by any site when establishing a student account and any privacy or security features the site may employ to protect users.